

15,000 GERMANS ARE CAPTURED IN BIG DRIVE

While Total German Casualties Thus Far Are Estimated To Be 60,000—French Move Their Line Nearer to Peronne, Having Captured Line of Trenches East of Curlu

ALSO SORMONT FARM FACING CLOY VILLAGE

British Repulsed German Infantry Attack at Thiepval After the Germans Had Made Artillery Bombardment—German Troops Being Rushed To Bolster Up the Line

Press Camp in France, July 5.—The total number of prisoners taken thus far in the Anglo-French offensive has probably reached 15,000, and the German losses are estimated at least 60,000. The British have taken 11 guns, the Germans having withdrawn most of their guns to longer ranges. It is reported that the Germans are hastily sending their reserves from many points on the western front.

Paris, July 5.—The French have captured a line of German trenches east of Curlu, the war office announced to-day, and they have also captured Sormont farm, facing Cloy.

The advance reported indicates that the French are moving eastward along the north bank of the Somme river in their movement toward Peronne in the combined Anglo-French offensive in Picardy. Cloy is the most advanced point mentioned and is four and one-half miles northwest of Peronne.

GERMANS WILL NOT ADMIT SERIOUS REVERSES AS YET

Berlin, via London, July 5.—Violent fighting between the Germans and the allies' forces on both sides of the Somme river has been continuous since last night, says the official German statement. Up to the present time, the statement adds, the allies have nowhere obtained serious advantages.

THIEPVAL HELD BY BRITISH, DESPITE COUNTER-ATTACK

Made Heavy Bombardment and Were Repulsed Easily, According to Reuter Dispatch, German Troops Being Brought to Somme Front.

London, July 5.—A Reuter dispatch from the western front says the Germans made a counter-attack on the new British positions at Thiepval after a heavy bombardment but were easily repulsed. The prisoners were quoted as having stated that German units were being rushed to the Somme front from as far as Verdun at the west of Lens to the north.

According to this dispatch, a German officer who surrendered 150 men in a body said he thought they would be of more use in Germany after the war than dead.

FRENCH STRAIGHTENED LINE.

By Capture of Three Villages and Advance on Wide Front.

London, July 5.—The French troops, co-operating with the British in the Somme river region, have straightened their line somewhat by the capture of Baudoux, Bell-en-Santerre and Estrees, and are advancing on a considerably wider front toward Peronne. At Estrees, where 500 prisoners were taken, the fighting is still going on furiously. On the British end of the line, only slight progress has been made at some points. Unofficial dispatches say that the entire British front of ninety miles is bearing its full share of the battle, but it is towards the south that the heaviest fight is under way.

A high British officer is authority for the statement that artillery preparation will provide all further infantry attacks, as the resourcefulness, determination and fighting qualities as well as the power of their defenses, are well recognized.

Although the French are making a steady advance in the Somme sector without apparently heavy casualties and now face an easier task, according to expert opinion, to reach their objective, the river itself, the Verdun army is engaged in particularly heavy fighting, the Germans not having permitted the battle of the Somme to interfere with their operations for the capture of the great fortresses. On the Verdun front the Germans have taken the Thiaumont work for the fourth time, after a terrific bombardment and by a massed attack. Around this work, which has been the center of desperate attacks and counter attacks for many days past, thousands of men have fallen, for this is a position which is essential to the Germans for carrying their advance nearer to Verdun itself, and to the French to keep their resistance intact.

TWO FIRES AT MONTPELIER.

Both Were Slight in Loss and Were Probably Due to Celebration.

The Fourth of July was productive of two fires in Montpelier, one at 8 o'clock last evening in the barn of Michael Corry on Berlin street and the second at 11 o'clock on Winoski avenue, the lumber pile belonging to E. V. Gitchell catching fire and keeping the regulars engaged for three hours. The damage in each instance was small.

Some boy, it is believed, threw a fire cracker in the box stall of the Corry barn catching the hay on fire, and it was with difficulty that a horse belonging to Floyd Goodman was led out of the stall. A small amount of hay was burned before the firemen arrived but the horse was not injured and the damage was slight. The window in the stall was open and some thoughtless person probably threw a cracker into the barn.

The second fire, the firemen believe, was set, the lumber being saturated with kerosene and getting a good start. The firemen were summoned by telephone and at 3 o'clock in the morning fought the blaze with chemicals.

Oscar Potter of Rutland Had Been Hurt in Fall.

Rutland, July 5.—Oscar Potter of the Creek road is in the Rutland hospital in a serious condition as the result of a fall at his home.

He was found yesterday afternoon on the kitchen floor by Leo Shelve, who stopped to get a drink of water.

He picked up the unconscious man and laid him on the couch. Hearing a commotion in the stables, he went to the barn and found Potter's horse in a half-starved condition. Pitching him some grain and oats he hurried home, where he telephoned for medical aid.

St. Johnsbury, July 5.—A bullet entered a bedroom window at the Avenue hotel Monday night and was found lying on the floor. The room was not occupied. A skyrocket crashed through a show window of Randall's department store when a mischievous boy applied a match to a bundle of fireworks under a man's arm. The damage was $100.

St. Johnsbury, July 5.—Dr. J. M. Allen's automobile was struck by a shifting locomotive on the Portland street crossing yesterday. The doctor saw the approaching engine too late to apply his brakes and the auto was jammed between the locomotive and a post beside the track. Considerable damage resulted to the automobile, but Dr. Allen emerged unhurt.

HAND BLOWN OFF

When He Failed to Throw Giant Cracker Soon Enough.

Framingham, Mass., July 5.—Three persons were injured in a Fourth of July accident here yesterday. William Halley, a stevedore, filled a giant cracker with dynamite and was about to hurl it into the street when it exploded and blew off his right hand. The explosion carried a finger of the hand through the plate glass window of a drug store, putting out the eye of the clerk, Clarence Bell. Halley's brother was also injured by the explosion. All three were taken to the hospital.

DESIRES PEACE WITH U.S.

Carranza's Reply to Wilson's Notes States That Release of the American Troopers Captured at Carrizal Indicates Mexico's Wishes to Reach Pacific Arrangements

SUGGESTS MEDIATION TO END DIFFERENCES

Over Two Chief Points at Issue, Viz., the Withdrawal of American Troops from Mexican Territory and the Proper Policing of the International Boundary Line

Washington, D. C., July 5.—The Carranza reply to the last two American notes was delivered to the state department by attaches of the Mexican embassy to-day. Careful study will be necessary before it is determined whether the communication satisfies the United States demand for a definite statement of the Carranza government's intentions toward American troops in Mexico. Although the reply evades specific declaration on the question whether Carranza issued the formal order which led to the attack on Americans at Carrizal, it is believed that President Wilson will meet Carranza more than half way in trying to avoid hostilities.

This conciliatory spirit does not contemplate the removing of Pershing's forces from Mexican soil, however, nor does it imply action which would remove protection to the American border by American troops.

The note which was later in the day made public, says that the immediate release of the Carrizal prisoners is further proof that the Mexican government desires to reach a pacific and satisfactory arrangement of present difficulties, that the government is anxious to solve the present conflict, and it would be unjust if its attitude were misinterpreted. It says that the Mexican government is now disposed, as it always has been, to seek an immediate solution of the two points that constitute the true causes of conflict between the two countries, and it names the withdrawal of the American troops on Mexican territory, which it calls a trespass on the sovereignty of Mexico, and protection of the border.

The Mexican government is willing to consider in a quick and practical way, prompted by a spirit of concord, the remedies which should be applied. Several Latin-American countries offered friendly mediation, and the Mexican government accepted it in principle and awaits information that the United States would be disposed to accept mediation. The Mexican government still believes that some results may be obtained by direct negotiations. In the meantime it offers to employ all efforts at its disposal to prevent a recurrence which may complicate or aggravate the situation and hopes that the United States will prevent new acts of the military and civil authorities that might cause complications.

The latest communication so plainly indicates the Mexican government, like the United States, is anxious to avert a clash if possible that a further interchange of views is expected to begin immediately, looking to joint efforts to curb border bandits.

BECOMING ACCLIMATED.

Eastern Militia Standing Temperature of 104 Fairly Well.

El Paso, Tex., July 5.—Civil and military authorities last night began making arrangements for a memorial service and a military funeral for the American soldiers who fell at Carrizal.

Arrangements will not be completed until those in charge learn the time of the arrival of the bodies, which include those of Captain Charles S. Boyd and Lieutenant Henry Adair. It is planned, however, that the bodies shall lie in state at Fort Bliss. Citizens began to collect a fund for floral offerings.

Andres Garcia, Mexican consul, said that the train carrying the bodies probably would reach here late in the week. The special train carrying three El Paso undertakers and eight Mexican laborers who will exhume the bodies, reached Villa Ahumada last night.

Vaccination of the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania soldiers on the station here against typhus, typhoid and smallpox diseases rampant in northern Mexico, was begun by army medical authorities yesterday.

A maximum temperature of 104 was recorded in El Paso yesterday, but military authorities asserted that the guardsmen here from the Atlantic seaboard states are rapidly becoming acclimated.

GRAND LIST SHRINKS

Because of Exemptions on Book Accounts—Real Estate Increased.

Lacking a quorum because some of the members did not reach the city in time to answer the roll call at 7 o'clock the city council did not settle into its regular session Monday evening until well after 9 o'clock, and then the business consisted almost wholly of approving the month's accumulation of warrants. Alderman Rossi is in Long Island, N. Y., and wasn't expected to be present. Alderman Glysson was hurrying home from an outing at Highgate Springs, but didn't get under the wire in time to join in the brief deliberations at the late session. It was only when Alderman Bruce, one of the punctual four who reported at 7 o'clock, chartered the water department jitney and motored to Berlin pond that Alderman Reynolds was drafted to make up the quorum.

At hand much earlier than usual is the annual report of the assessors, which was read and ordered printed in the city report to be issued in February, 1917. This year's grand list of $63,032.33 represents a shrinkage of $2,008.24 from the list of 1915, a decrease accounted for by the exemption on book accounts. Real estate amounts to $43,635.925, an increase of $66,715 over last year. A falling off of $295,740 from 1915 was represented in the personal property, which totals $885,308. Here, again, the exemption on book accounts is felt. Taxable polls number 3,410, a gain of one over last year. Exemptions included: Veterans and widows, $255 (where real estate does not exceed $1,000 in value); 14 veterans, poll taxes, $28; 41 persons over 70 years of age, $82; disabled or poor, 12 persons, $26.

Minor building permits were granted Frank W. Nichols, Grace I. Bond and the D. M. Miles Coal Co., on the favorable recommendation of the building inspector, and lighting permits were received by William M. Holden, S. H. Jackson and the Montpelier & Barre Lighting & Power Co. A petition from Beech street residents for an extension of the water and sewer mains was referred to the street committee. Requests from Fritz W. Jackson and Harry Quinlen for permission to sell fireworks were granted with the usual restrictions. F. H. Tracy's bill for boarding Joseph Broginni at the county jail was referred to the overseer of the poor.

The resignations of E. D. McAllister and M. J. Hamel from the call fire department were received and accepted. On the motion of Alderman Healy the United States government was given an abatement on its 1915 sprinkling tax, the sprinkling having been done in the vicinity of the postoffice. G. A. Paquet's request for permission to sink a gasoline tank at the corner of Merchant and Summer streets was referred to the fire and street committees.

WOMAN FURNISHED BAIL.

When Arraigned in Barre Court on the Charge of Keeping Disorderly House.

Official scrutiny of disorders in darkest Depot square is said to have prompted the arrest last night of Mrs. Mabel Bruce, who occupies a suite of rooms at No. 14, over the coal office. This morning Mrs. Bruce was arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. She entered a plea of not guilty and bail of $500 was furnished. A hearing will be held in the case on the morning of July 12 at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Bruce appeared in court without counsel. She was taken in custody by Officer Harry Gamble on a complaint made to Grand Juror William Wishart.

It is said that the police have the names of several persons who are likely to be asked to take the stand when the hearing begins. On the night before the Fourth officers visited Mrs. Bruce's apartments and during their sojourn a number of people called. Their names were secured and they were told to keep away from the premises in the future.

AT OLD RED SCHOOLHOUSE.

More Than 1,000 Attend Celebration in South Wheelock.

South Wheelock, July 5.—More than 1,000 persons attended the celebration at the old red schoolhouse yesterday. Band concerts were a feature in the forenoon and the afternoon saw many hotly contested sports.

The team from Glover won over St. Johnsbury in the tug-of-war. In the ball game between a Lyndon team and another made up of St. Johnsbury and Wheelock men, all former attendants at the old red schoolhouse, the latter outfit was whitewashed, 4 to 0. A band concert and dance in the hall last night closed the celebration.

"4TH" CELEBRATION WAS CURTAILED

There Was Scarcely a Let-up in the Drenching from Morning Till Night—Arab Patrol Picnic Mostly a Band Concert.

Just plain, ornery weather of the kind that has made most people feel that this bad summer of 1916 is followed by a jinx was the most absorbing feature of Barre's Fourth of July observance. Absorbing, because it rained hard enough to absorb everyone's plans for a holiday in the open, absorbing because there was moisture and enough to engulf everything that would have been useful in a celebration of the old-fashioned sort. From dewy dawn until the approach of dusk it rained, rained, rained. There were infrequent intervals when the skies seemed to be taking a breathing spell, but the intervals were garbed in those drab clouds that portended nothing but more rain and so the heavens continued to exude, emit, dispense and dissipate nobody knows how much water. Nobody cares—now.

Beginning hours before the restrictions on the sale of fireworks were off, the noise of "the night before" continued without interruption until the well known first streaks of dawn in the east. Horns tooted and firecrackers were discharged sporadically before the mystic hour of midnight arrived. Many people were abroad and by some the excessive showing of patriotic exuberance was likened to the good old times when father was a boy. Bonfires were started in several sections of the city, but there were those duly clothed with authority who saw to it that the youngsters in charge of the fires were kept within bounds. Chief Sinclair had an extra detail of police assigned to strategic beats and order prevailed throughout. Celebrators were not disposed to be hoisterous and the night doings, on the whole, were quite as orderly as the very mild and moist observance that began with daylight.

Public and family picnickers, setting out early for outing grounds near the city or far enough away to necessitate motor transportation were the first to sense the real disappointment of those who had their plans all framed for the day. Here in the city most of the stay-at-homes were looking forward with eager anticipation to the Shriners' picnic at Granite City park. In midforenoon the Montpelier Military band assembled at the park and gave a concert. It was scheduled to be the first of a series of events designed to make the outing notable in a red-letter day in the annals of Mount Sinai temple, but promoters of the affair and patrons alike were doomed to disappointment in big packages. Comic baseball in the form of a diamond contest between the fates of Barre and Montpelier, a tug of war, foot races and finally the opening of the Vermont state league in Barre with the Italian Athletic club and Montpelier as the contenders, were among the entries for the day.

Alas and alack, those loyal spirits who foregathered on the grounds were to witness almost none of these. Concessionaires were on the field with ice cream cones and soft drinks. They thrived at all. It was too dank and humid for such picnic accessories and for the most part the crowd of 200 people resigned themselves.

In the evening there were rather striking pyrotechnic displays, which is another way of saying that many youngsters and grown-ups joined in setting off fireworks. There was little evidence of a disposition to exceed the bounds of reason in celebrating and so a Fourth that was too waterlogged to be anything but safe and sane came to an end.

PICNIC DESPITE RAIN.

J. Pluvius Could Not Stop the Bonaccord Football Club.

Unpleasant conditions outdoors did not deter the Bonaccord Football club from holding its annual outing at Caledonia park yesterday and when the rain abated a bit in the late afternoon some of the field sports planned for the picnic were under way for a time. A special train leaving the city over the Montpelier & Wells River railroad at 10:50 o'clock carried picnicers to the grounds and others went to Caledonia by team and auto. Necessarily, much of the celebration took place in the park pavilion, where a local orchestra played throughout the afternoon. There were many dancers.

Results of the athletic events are given as follows: Ladies' place kick, Miss Nicol 1st, Mrs. Webster 2d; single ladies' race, Miss Melvin 1st, Miss Geis 2d; married ladies' race, Mrs. Innes 1st, Mrs. Kerr 2d; 100 men's race, W.
